Dr. Cherice Montgomery is currently working at Brigham Young University in Utah. Before she took the position at BYU, she was a high school Spanish teacher for 12 years. Dr. Montgomery has numerous outstanding professional publications with National K-12 Foreign Language Resource Center. Some of her publications on how to teach world language include: “Differentiated Instructions: Designing More Access and Support for Successful World language Learning”, “21 century technologies: Tools for transforming teaching and learning”, “Resources for student learning: finding, evaluating and using culturally authentic materials”. Dr. Montgomery has also received several honors and awards throughout her teaching career. She has conducted nationwide seminars and workshops for world language teachers. And in the summer of 2008, she was the co-leader of “Mentoring & Leadership for K-12 Chinese Teachers Institute” at Iowa State University, sponsored by STARTALK.
