

Academic Plan – Enhancement of the Resource Base

Examine Low-enrolling Courses - 2008 Update

The Enrollment Management Council already seems to be doing a fine job of identifying low enrollment courses. This results in the academic units either cancelling them or offering them less frequently. The RCM budgeting model also helps to eliminate enrollment inefficiency, since this adversely affects a school's financial status. No additional action is necessary.