Required texts:
- Additional readings are available on oncourse website.

Course Objectives
The purpose of this course is to provide an overview of Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT), an approach developed by Dr. Marsha Linehan for treating clients with borderline personality disorder (BPD). Students can expect to learn about the biosocial theory of BPD, the dialectical philosophy on which DBT is based, the cognitive-behavioral and mindfulness/acceptance-based strategies that are incorporated into DBT, how DBT programs are organized, and the empirical literature on the efficacy of DBT. We will also discuss other disorders for which DBT has been shown effective and related disorders and treatments for common comorbid problems with BPD. You will also learn to critically evaluate the literature on DBT. In other words, the class will focus on three main skills sets:

1. Developing a working knowledge base on the theory behind and the application of DBT for BPD
2. Developing an appreciation for the research support for DBT for multiple clinical populations
3. Critically evaluating the literature on the effectiveness of DBT
4. Appreciate comorbidity and complimentary interventions in the BPD population

Grading
Grades will be determined as follows:

- Weekly class participation (including discussion of articles): 30%
- Take-home final exam: 25%
- Research paper: 30%
- Student presentation of research paper: 15%

Final Course grades will follow the typical grading scale: 98 - 100% = A+, 93 - 97% = A, 90-92 = A-, 88-89% = B +, 83 - 87% = B, 80-82% = B-
Weekly class participation
For each class, individuals will be assigned to prepare discussion questions, which will be distributed the week before the readings are assigned. This means that you will have to do some reading and thinking in advance if you are writing the discussion questions. These people should be prepared to lead a 30- to 45-minute discussion on the readings. The grade will be based on the thoughtfulness of the questions (i.e., the degree to which they integrate or develop ideas in the readings), effectiveness in stimulating participation and discussion, and leadership of class discussion. Also, even on days that you do not present, you should come to each class having done the readings and prepared to discuss them, particularly with reference to any discussion questions that were distributed.

Take home final exam
The take home final exam will be passed out on xxxx and will be due back to me by xxxxx. The test will be open book/notes/internet and will cover a variety of topics covered during the course. The test will be in essay format and exam questions may be factual or theoretical in nature. They will cover readings, lecture materials, and in class discussions. You will be required to complete an academic integrity form when turning in your exam.

Research Paper and Presentation
Each student will be responsible for an empirical research paper on the use of DBT (or aspects of DBT, such as mindfulness only) for another psychological/medical problem. These can range from eating disorders, substance abuse, PTSD, marriage therapy, suicidal behavior, inpatients, suicidal adolescents, sexual abuse, pain management, or health coping. A related topic could be comparison of DBT with other treatments, such as psychopharmacology or emotion-focused treatment. Students must approve the topic with the professor by xxxxx, and no student can share topics with another student. Research papers should include an introduction and background section summarizing the empirical literature for the use of DBT for the particular disorder. Then, the research paper should discuss limitations in our knowledge about DBT. Paper should also include a proposal for a research project that could help further establish the role of DBT for this related disorder. Papers should 10-20 pages (without reference and title page) and must be in APA format. Students will be required to do a 20 minute presentation on their findings during weeks 11-13 of the course. For the presentations, students will be required to choose 1-2 readings to distribute to the class at least one week before their scheduled presentation. Papers will be due on xxxx.

If you have to miss a class, please inform the instructor ahead of time to avoid penalty to your participation grade. If you have to miss class on a day when you are assigned to be the discussion leader, you must find a classmate to take your place or you will receive a 0 in class discussion; you must provide official documentation for you missed class according to university guidelines. Academic Misconduct (Taken from Academic Handbook, 2008 and the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct) http://www.indiana.edu/~deanfac/acadhbk/
http://www.iupui.edu/code/

The Academic Handbook states that faculty members have the responsibility of fostering the "intellectual honesty as well as the intellectual development of students......The faculty member should explain clearly the meaning of cheating and plagiarism as they apply to the course......Should the faculty member detect signs of plagiarism or cheating, it is his or her most serious obligation to investigate these thoroughly, to take appropriate action with respect to the grades of students, and in any event to report the matter to the Dean of Students. The necessity to report every case of cheating, whether or not further action is desirable, arises particularly because of the possibility that this is not the student's first offense, or that other offenses may follow it. Equity also demands that a uniform reporting practice be enforced; otherwise, some students will be penalized while others guilty of the same actions will go free." (p. 200).

Academic Misconduct: (from the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct)
1. Cheating: A student must not use or attempt to use unauthorized assistance, materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise, including, but not limited to, the following:

   a. A student must not use external assistance on any "in-class" or "take-home" examination, unless the instructor specifically has authorized external assistance. This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, the use of tutors, books, notes, and calculators.

   b. A student must not use another person as a substitute in the taking of an examination or quiz.

   c. A student must not steal examinations or other course materials.

   d. A student must not allow others to conduct research or to prepare work for him or her without advance authorization from the instructor to whom the work is being submitted. Under this prohibition, a student must not make any unauthorized use of materials obtained from commercial term paper companies or from files of papers prepared by other persons.
e. A student must not collaborate with other persons on a particular project and submit a copy of a written report which is represented explicitly or implicitly as the student's individual work.

f. A student must not use any unauthorized assistance in a laboratory, at a computer terminal, or on field work.

g. A student must not submit substantial portions of the same academic work for credit or honors more than once without permission of the instructor to whom the work is being submitted.

h. A student must not alter a grade or score in any way.

2. Fabrication: A student must not falsify or invent any information or data in an academic exercise including, but not limited to, records or reports, laboratory results, and citations to the sources of information.

3. Plagiarism: A student must not adopt or reproduce ideas, words, or statements of another person without appropriate acknowledgment. A student must give credit to the originality of others and acknowledge indebtedness whenever he or she does any of the following:

   a. Quotes another person's actual words, either oral or written;

   b. Paraphrases another person's words, either oral or written;

   c. Uses another person's idea, opinion, or theory; or

   d. Borrows facts, statistics, or other illustrative material, unless the information is common knowledge.

4. Interference

   a. A student must not steal, change, destroy, or impede another student's work. Impeding another student's work includes, but is not limited to, the theft, defacement, or mutilation of resources so as to deprive others of the information they contain.

   b. A student must not give or offer a bribe, promise favors, or make threats with the intention of affecting a grade or the evaluation of academic performance.
Faculty Action
If a faculty member has information that one of his/her students committed an act of academic misconduct, the faculty member is required to hold an informal conference with the student. The conference should be prompt and private. If the faculty member concludes that the student is responsible for the misconduct, then the faculty member is authorized to impose an appropriate academic sanction (i.e., lower or failing grade on the assignment, assessing a lower or failing grade for the course).

After reporting the information to the Dean of Students, he/she will review the information to determine if additional sanctions should be applied.

Sanctions are outlined in the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct. This document appears on the web at the following address: http://www.iupui.edu/code/.

Policy on Student Academic Misconduct
Faculty are required to report all incidents of academic misconduct to the Dean of Students. For information about policies and procedures, including due process requirements, see the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct, especially part III: Student Misconduct and Part IV: Student Disciplinary Procedures. The code is accessible on the Internet at http://www.iupui.edu/code/.
