Thunderbird Global Experience

Designed to expose you to real-world processes of global team building, government-industry partnering in technology development, consumer marketing, advertising, risk management and global business ethics, the Global Experience programs reflect our belief that to be a truly successful international manager, you need to observe the world's best businesses and business professionals at work in their natural environments. Through conversations with international business leaders, visits to multinational corporations or embassies, observing high-level cross-cultural business negotiations, and attending business presentations across the globe, you will become familiar with the regulatory, political, economic and cultural environments in which business is conducted in different regions of the world. You will learn to analyze the risk and negotiate the challenges of doing business in different parts of the world, and you will begin building global professional networks long before you graduate.

Q Course Requests for Kelley/Thunderbird Dual Degree Program

Background: Kelley Direct is partnering with Thunderbird Garvin School of International Management on a dual MBA/MIM degree. In this program, enrollment in both institutions is concurrent and leads to two degrees awarded at the same time.

Issues:
1. Financial aid is only awarded if/when graduate students are enrolled at least part-time at IU. Due to the academic structure of the program, there is one term (the final term) when students will be below half-time status and therefore not eligible for aid.
2. Indiana and Arizona are located in two different Veteran’s Affairs processing regions; this could lead to “double-dipping” and the ultimate need for the student to re-pay Veteran’s Affairs benefits granted in error.

Resolution: After working with the Office of the Registrar (which includes Veteran’s Affairs), we determined Indiana University would be the “home” institution for the dual degree program. The IUPUI Office of the Registrar already works with other IU academic units and their unique relationships with other institutions; therefore, the internal processes and knowledge needed to support exceptional arrangements are already established.

Verifying satisfactory enrollment with respect to the accurate certification of veteran’s benefits is the primary responsibility of the “home” institution. As a result, Kelley Direct needs to transcript Thunderbird courses for the purposes of total credit-hour enrollment and satisfactory degree completion on an IU transcript.

To do so, we are requesting the following Q course numbers be reserved from this time forward for Thunderbird courses associated with the dual degree program. Dual degree students will be registered for Thunderbird courses on both the IU and Thunderbird campuses; however, specific grades will be provided on the Thunderbird transcript, and S or F will be noted on the IU transcript.

Summary: In order to provide and Veteran’s Affairs benefits to students in the Kelley/Thunderbird dual degree program, specific course numbers for Thunderbird courses are needed to verify total program credit-hour enrollment, and these courses must be noted as S or F for the purpose of verifying degree progress. Students will be educated on the front-end about not meeting financial aid enrollment requirements in the final term and counseled during the program about their borrowing ability and need to save loan funds for the final bill.
