

As of July 2011

The Department of Education must individually approve each certificate program before students in those course may receive federal financial aid. Students must meet all general eligibility requirements and enroll in the requisite number of hours to qualify.

Approved Graduate Certificate Programs

Bioethics
Biometric Computing
Biotechnology
Clinical Informatics
Clinical Pediatric Nutrition
Clinical Research
Computing Security (Cyber Security)
Database and Datamining
Executive Certificate in Library Management
Geographic Information Science – Spatial Analysis
Health Policy
Health Systems Management
Homeland Security and Emergency Management
Human-Computer Interaction
Medical Dosimetry
Museum Studies
Nonprofit Management
Professional Editing
Public Management
Software Engineering
Survey Research
Teaching English as a Second Language
Teaching in Nursing
Teaching Writing

Approved Undergraduate Certificate Programs

American Sign Language
Applied Computer Science
Beverage Management Services
Business Foundations
Case Management
Construction Management
Convention and Meeting Planning Specialist
Cultural Heritage Tourism
Dental Assisting (includes distance ed)
E-Commerce Development
Environmental Studies – Area Certificate
Events Management
Family Life Education
Food Production Services
Gerontology Studies
Global Health and Rehabilitation
Health Tourism
Histotechnology
Human Resource Management
Information Technology
International Leadership
Journalism – Area Certificate
Labor Studies
Lodging Management
Medical Coding
Museum Studies
Music Therapy Equivalency
Paralegal Studies
Personal Training
Public Affairs – Area Certificate
Public Health – Area Certificate
Public Management – Area Certificate
Public Relations
Rehabilitation and Disability Studies
Sports Tourism Development
Technical Communication
Theater and Performance
Translation Studies
Travel Planning