The School of Liberal Arts’ Africana Studies Program’s Committee on African and African American Studies Presents:

“In The Wake of the Quake:
Rethinking and Rebuilding Haiti”

Wednesday March 3rd, 2010
From 6:00-7:30 p.m.

In (CE 409)

Panelists Include:

- Dr. Didier Gondola (Professor of History)
- Dr. Tim Brothers (Associate Professor of Geography)
- Dr. Una Osili (Associate Professor of Economics and Director of Research, Center of Philanthropy)
- Dr. Amy Reinsel (Adjunct Professor of World Languages and Cultures)
- Leonce John-Baptiste (IUPUI Alum and Member of Haitian Association of Indiana)
- Patricia Jordan (IUPUI Student, Olaniyan Scholars Program)

Creative Performance choreographed and scripted by Dr. Regina Turner, Associate Professor of Communication Studies and University College.

Speakers will:

- Address the myths and misunderstandings about Haiti and its history
- Learn about the environmental context and natural hazards
- Provide information about Haiti’s complicated relationship with the U.S.
- Share resources to help with the effort to rebuild the Haitian nation.