(Take GRE in October so scores are available by November.) DEADLINE: Early November.

Mitchell Scholarship

<http://www.us-irelandalliance.org/scholarships.html>

This scholarship, sponsored by The US-Ireland Alliance, was named in honor of former Senator George J. Mitchell. Senator Mitchell made a pivotal contribution to the peace process in Northern Ireland. The Mitchell Scholarship encourages American students to serve their community and country, and exhibit qualities of intellectual distinction, leadership, integrity, excellence and fairness. The scholarship intends to familiarize and engage the next generation of American leaders with the island of Ireland. The Mitchell Scholarship provides support for one academic year of postgraduate study at institutions of higher learning in Ireland, including the seven universities in the Republic of Ireland and the two universities in Northern Ireland. All fields of study are considered that these universities offer and for which students are prepared. In order to be eligible, an applicant must be a U.S. citizen between the ages of 18 and 30; must be a senior who will have completed an undergraduate degree no later than the summer before entering an Irish university; must have a minimum GPA of 3.7 (not required, but recommended). Additionally, nominees must submit: an endorsement by the nominating institution; an on-line application; a personal essay of no more than 1000 words specifying the proposed course of study in Ireland, field of interest and justification for the proposed study in Ireland; a statement of achievement/activities; one photocopy of the nominee's birth certificate, passport, or documented evidence of U.S. citizenship (a driver's license is NOT a citizenship document); ten passport-size photos with the nominee's signature on the back of each photo; ten copies of the nominee's college transcript (one must be a certified transcript); and five to eight recommendation letters submitted on-line by professors or other persons familiar with the nominee's academic progress or employment. DEADLINE: Early October.

EPA Marshall Scholarship

Revised: 12/12/2007

<http://www.marshallscholarship.org/applicationepa.html>

Students nominated by Indiana University and then selected in national competition for a Marshall

Scholarship may wish to apply for an EPA Marshall Scholarship. Jointly funded by the Marshall Commission and the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), these Scholarships will support research specifically in the area of the environment and can be in any related field. Applicants may study at any appropriate UK Institution. To be eligible for the EPA Marshall Scholarship, applicants must first be selected as Marshall Scholars, applying in the usual way, and must be pursuing a graduate degree in one of the following areas:

- Physical, life, or systematic sciences
- Engineering and technology
- Economics
- Social and behavioral sciences
- Urban and regional planning
- Communication science

The proposed program of study must be demonstrably relevant to environmental protection, restoration or stewardship; environmental public health; or ecosystem health. Applicants whose work emphasizes the study of global environmental problems, international collaborative approaches to environmental problem solving, technology exchange programs or research to improve international dialog regarding the environment will be given first consideration. The Marshall Commission will pay for the first two years of the Scholarship and the Scholar will spend this time in the UK. The EPA will pay for up to three additional years of study, which can be spent in the UK or the US, providing this research culminates in a doctoral degree.

DEADLINE: See
